

THE WEATHER
Mostly cloudy tonight; tomorrow fair; fresh southwest and west winds.
TEMPERATURE AT EACH HOUR
8 9 10 11 12 1 2 3 4 5
63 64 65 67 68 70 71

Fighting Public Ledger

NIGHT EXTRA
PRICE TWO CENTS

VOL. VIII.—NO. 212 Entered as Second-Class Matter at the Postoffice at Philadelphia, Pa. Under the Act of March 3, 1879. PHILADELPHIA, FRIDAY, MAY 19, 1922. Published Daily Except Sunday. Subscription Price $6 a Year by Mail. Copyright, 1922, by Public Ledger Company.

PINCHOT SPEEDS PLANS TO PUT STATE IN ORDER

United Party Will Get Back of Him for the Fall Election

PRIMARY SHOWED VOTERS' HATE FOR BOSS RULE

Vare, Leslie, Eyre, Beidleman, Baker and Snyder All in Ranks of Rejected

MACHINE ALL BUNGLED UP

Vare Machine Got One of Worst Basting in Its History. Leaders in Daze

Gifford Pinchot now has a lead of 6000 over Attorney General Alter, with only 273 districts missing out of 7933 in the State. Returns from 7663 districts gave Pinchot 499,070. Alter 406,622.

Gifford Pinchot, Republican nominee for Governor, is beginning a further study of the State's financial condition, one of the most important topics that will engage his early attention.

Mr. Pinchot went to his home in Milford, Pike County, last night. He is preparing now for the fall campaign with pledges of united party support. Starting in September he expects to cover every section of the State.

The defeated Combine leaders, the men who picked Attorney General Alter as the machine candidate for the nomination are coming slowly out of their daze.

For one thing, the Pinchot victory pulled up short the soaring ambitions of various leaders, each of whom hoped to succeed Penrose as State leader.

Pinchot's majority is not a large one, but as the outcome of a fight unexampled in the history of the State, and as a personal triumph over the strongest machine in the country, it is monumental in its significance.

Of all the fallen leaders who suffered the worst blow was Senator Edwin W. Martin. He had been a member of the machine since its inception and there was no more hopeful prospect of a better man than he. He knew the State would go strong for Pinchot. He knew Allegheny would give a reduced majority. He knew the vote would be split between the two candidates.

He had made a mistake in assuming that the anti-machine forces would be united. He had made a mistake in assuming that the anti-machine forces would be united.

What the Anti-Vareites Could Do. Mr. Pinchot received 117,756 votes here, with approximately 156,000 qualified electors remaining away from the city. In addition, approximately 100,000 votes could not vote because they had failed to register. The total vote cast here was 340,928.

On the basis of Alter's plurality of 180,000, it is fairly certain that the anti-machine forces will be united. The anti-machine forces will be united.

An unkind fate seems to have followed the anti-machine forces. In Philadelphia and Allegheny County, Mr. Pinchot has just a little more than half the vote. In Allegheny County, Mr. Pinchot has just a little more than half the vote.

News from Pittsburgh indicates that the anti-machine forces will be united. The anti-machine forces will be united.

News from Pittsburgh indicates that the anti-machine forces will be united. The anti-machine forces will be united.

News from Pittsburgh indicates that the anti-machine forces will be united. The anti-machine forces will be united.

News from Pittsburgh indicates that the anti-machine forces will be united. The anti-machine forces will be united.

News from Pittsburgh indicates that the anti-machine forces will be united. The anti-machine forces will be united.

News from Pittsburgh indicates that the anti-machine forces will be united. The anti-machine forces will be united.

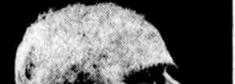

News from Pittsburgh indicates that the anti-machine forces will be united. The anti-machine forces will be united.

News from Pittsburgh indicates that the anti-machine forces will be united. The anti-machine forces will be united.

News from Pittsburgh indicates that the anti-machine forces will be united. The anti-machine forces will be united.

News from Pittsburgh indicates that the anti-machine forces will be united. The anti-machine forces will be united.

War Leader Here

MARSHAL EARL FRENCH

One of high commanders of British Army in war, is being honored in Philadelphia today

THIEF IN ROXBOROUGH LOOTS BABIES' BANKS

Seven Homes in One Neighborhood Lose Valuables. Thieves raided the babies' banks in Roxborough last night and early this morning, entering seven houses in the same neighborhood and getting the most of their loot in pennies and small coins.

WALTHALL NOT WORRIED

Los Angeles, May 19.—Investigation of the marriage of Rodolph Valentino to Winifred Hudnut, known professionally as Natacha Rambova, while he still was the legal husband of Jean Acker, film actress, was carried today to Mexico.

VALENTINO INQUIRY SHIFTS TO MEXICO

U. S. Officials to Determine if Second Marriage is Bigamous

WALTHALL NOT WORRIED

Los Angeles, May 19.—Investigation of the marriage of Rodolph Valentino to Winifred Hudnut, known professionally as Natacha Rambova, while he still was the legal husband of Jean Acker, film actress, was carried today to Mexico.

FORCE SAFE DOOR, GET $2500 IN GEMS

W. I. Greenfield, 4718 North Tenth St., reports robbery in home

SLAY FOUR IN IRELAND

County Derry Men Dragged From Beds and Murdered; Village Burned

FREE MRS. FRAZER IN BAIL

Woman Under Indictment for Forgery Released on Habeas Corpus

BAR LADY RHONDDA

Committee. Reversing Decision, Refuses Her Seat With Lords

WOMAN UNDER INDICTMENT FOR FORGERY

Mrs. Lennie Frazer, former wife of "Dad" Frazer, theatrical hotel proprietor, was released in $10,000 bail today by Judge J. Rogers, who heard testimony in Mrs. Frazer's case.

WOMAN UNDER INDICTMENT FOR FORGERY

Mrs. Lennie Frazer, former wife of "Dad" Frazer, theatrical hotel proprietor, was released in $10,000 bail today by Judge J. Rogers, who heard testimony in Mrs. Frazer's case.

WOMAN UNDER INDICTMENT FOR FORGERY

Mrs. Lennie Frazer, former wife of "Dad" Frazer, theatrical hotel proprietor, was released in $10,000 bail today by Judge J. Rogers, who heard testimony in Mrs. Frazer's case.

WOMAN UNDER INDICTMENT FOR FORGERY

Mrs. Lennie Frazer, former wife of "Dad" Frazer, theatrical hotel proprietor, was released in $10,000 bail today by Judge J. Rogers, who heard testimony in Mrs. Frazer's case.

WOMAN UNDER INDICTMENT FOR FORGERY

Mrs. Lennie Frazer, former wife of "Dad" Frazer, theatrical hotel proprietor, was released in $10,000 bail today by Judge J. Rogers, who heard testimony in Mrs. Frazer's case.

Mrs. Lennie Frazer, former wife of "Dad" Frazer, theatrical hotel proprietor, was released in $10,000 bail today by Judge J. Rogers, who heard testimony in Mrs. Frazer's case.

PHILA. HONORS EARL FRENCH

Delegation of Citizens and First City Troop Greet Marshal at Station

MAYOR EXTENDS OFFICIAL WELCOME AT CITY HALL

Praises Great British Military Chief and Is Answered in Return

Viscount French, Field Marshal of England, famous cavalry leader, and for a time supreme commander in the world war, arrived at North Philadelphia station at 11:45 o'clock this morning for a brief visit to Philadelphia.

The veteran, in civilian clothes, but bearing the unmistakable marks of the soldier, was greeted by a delegation of citizens and the First City Troop.

In the delegation were Alva B. Johnson, vice president of the Trans-Atlantic Society of America; Dr. Ellis P. Oberholzer, a member of the same organization; Barclay H. Warburton, Director of Welfare, representing the Mayor, and Durrell Shuster, the Mayor's secretary.

The Field Marshal wore a brown suit and a gray soft hat. He saluted Mr. Johnson and the others as he left the train.

With Mr. Johnson on one side and Director Warburton on the other, all three walked to the north approach of the station, where the First City Troop waited, under command of Captain Clement B. Wood.

Captain Wood gave the order to "present sabers for inspection," and the bright blades flashed in the sun. The Field Marshal walked quickly to the front of the row of horsemen, saluting gravely when the inspection was done, and stepped into an automobile with the others.

Comparatively few persons saw the famous British soldier leaving North Philadelphia station. The trip down Broad street, however, soon brought him into touch with Philadelphia crowds.

There were 2500 patrolmen detailed to the Broad street route, with motorcycle and mounted men who met the Field Marshal at the First City Troop behind his party. The First City Troop accompanied the Field Marshal to City Hall as a guard of honor.

"If he left this country a few days after getting a divorce," said Mr. McClelland, "was married in Mexico and then returned to the benefit of the laws here, it makes no difference if the woman he married has left for the East."

Valentino, who at the trial of the divorce action, gave his true name as Rodolph Guglielmi, has been seen in public only once since his marriage to Miss Hudnut.

TWO U. S. VESSELS ASHORE IN STORM

Steamship and Eagle Boat Reported Breaking Up on Long Island

New York, May 19.—(By A. P.)—Driven by a vicious eastern gale, two government ships, Eagle Boat No. 17 and the army steamship General John W. Wilkins, pounded ashore on Long Island early today and are reported to be breaking up.

$155,000 FOR P. R. T.

Twining Co. K's Warrant Under Frankford "L" Lease

Director Twining today signed a warrant for $155,000, payable to P. R. T., under the provisions of the Frankford elevated lease.

FREE MRS. FRAZER IN BAIL

Woman Under Indictment for Forgery Released on Habeas Corpus

Mrs. Lennie Frazer, former wife of "Dad" Frazer, theatrical hotel proprietor, was released in $10,000 bail today by Judge J. Rogers, who heard testimony in Mrs. Frazer's case.

WOMAN UNDER INDICTMENT FOR FORGERY

Mrs. Lennie Frazer, former wife of "Dad" Frazer, theatrical hotel proprietor, was released in $10,000 bail today by Judge J. Rogers, who heard testimony in Mrs. Frazer's case.

WOMAN UNDER INDICTMENT FOR FORGERY

Mrs. Lennie Frazer, former wife of "Dad" Frazer, theatrical hotel proprietor, was released in $10,000 bail today by Judge J. Rogers, who heard testimony in Mrs. Frazer's case.

WOMAN UNDER INDICTMENT FOR FORGERY

Mrs. Lennie Frazer, former wife of "Dad" Frazer, theatrical hotel proprietor, was released in $10,000 bail today by Judge J. Rogers, who heard testimony in Mrs. Frazer's case.

Marriage Probed

Screen actor, whose marriage following close upon divorce, is being investigated by Federal authorities

GENOA PASSES TORCH TO HAGUE

Optimism Voiced as Conference Ends—Non-Aggression Pact Finally Adopted

LLOYD GEORGE WARNS RUSSIA TO PAY DEBTS

Calls Results of Parley "Fine Crops"—Soviet Objects to Labor Report

By the Associated Press.

Genoa, May 19.—The Economic Conference, one of the greatest political gatherings in Europe's history, which brought here the representatives of thirty-four nations, adjourned this afternoon after six weeks of momentous deliberations. Its labors will be begun anew at The Hague on June 15.

The conference adopted the report of the economic commission, which contains constructive recommendations for the economic reorganization of Europe; adopted the arrangements for the conference at The Hague, and proclaimed the non-aggression pact, which, though provisional in its nature, it is hoped to follow with a permanent European peace pact.

The keynote of all the remarks at the final session was one of friendship and earnest desire to help Russia, but Mr. Lloyd George pointed out to the Russian Soviet representatives the unfortunate effect their famous memorandum had had on the world and warned them that if they wished for success at The Hague they had better abandon their eloquent presentation of the doctrine of repudiation of debts.

"Such a course is unwise when one wants to build a new world," the British Prime Minister remarked.

More Protests by Russia. M. Chicherin protested against the exclusion of the Russians from the Labor Committee. He said the real cause of the failure to obtain a settlement of the Russian question was that the footing of equality between Russia and the other Powers had not been maintained.

He also protested against the economic report, saying the attitude toward labor was unwarranted.

Mr. Lloyd George in his valedictory speech said the conference had gathered "fine crops," and called it "the most remarkable conference in the history of modern times."

He declared the "Russian tornado" had not upset the basic laws of the world's business, and that while Europe was anxious to help Russia, it must accept Europe's centuries-old code of honor—the payment of debts.

Chicherin Answers Lloyd George. M. Chicherin, responding to Mr. Lloyd George's remarks, regarding the Russian memorandum, said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

He said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

He said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

He said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

He said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

He said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

He said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

He said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

He said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

He said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

He said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

He said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

He said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

GENOA PASSES TORCH TO HAGUE

Optimism Voiced as Conference Ends—Non-Aggression Pact Finally Adopted

LLOYD GEORGE WARNS RUSSIA TO PAY DEBTS

Calls Results of Parley "Fine Crops"—Soviet Objects to Labor Report

By the Associated Press.

Genoa, May 19.—The Economic Conference, one of the greatest political gatherings in Europe's history, which brought here the representatives of thirty-four nations, adjourned this afternoon after six weeks of momentous deliberations. Its labors will be begun anew at The Hague on June 15.

The conference adopted the report of the economic commission, which contains constructive recommendations for the economic reorganization of Europe; adopted the arrangements for the conference at The Hague, and proclaimed the non-aggression pact, which, though provisional in its nature, it is hoped to follow with a permanent European peace pact.

The keynote of all the remarks at the final session was one of friendship and earnest desire to help Russia, but Mr. Lloyd George pointed out to the Russian Soviet representatives the unfortunate effect their famous memorandum had had on the world and warned them that if they wished for success at The Hague they had better abandon their eloquent presentation of the doctrine of repudiation of debts.

"Such a course is unwise when one wants to build a new world," the British Prime Minister remarked.

More Protests by Russia. M. Chicherin protested against the exclusion of the Russians from the Labor Committee. He said the real cause of the failure to obtain a settlement of the Russian question was that the footing of equality between Russia and the other Powers had not been maintained.

He also protested against the economic report, saying the attitude toward labor was unwarranted.

Mr. Lloyd George in his valedictory speech said the conference had gathered "fine crops," and called it "the most remarkable conference in the history of modern times."

He declared the "Russian tornado" had not upset the basic laws of the world's business, and that while Europe was anxious to help Russia, it must accept Europe's centuries-old code of honor—the payment of debts.

Chicherin Answers Lloyd George. M. Chicherin, responding to Mr. Lloyd George's remarks, regarding the Russian memorandum, said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

He said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

He said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

He said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

He said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

He said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

He said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

He said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

He said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

He said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

He said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

He said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

He said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

He said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

Allies Persist in Hope

U. S. Will Change Mind About Stand Taken by Washington Administration

By CLINTON W. GILBERT

Washington, May 19.—The hope in Genoa that the United States will accept an invitation to the conference on Russia at The Hague is difficult to understand here in Washington. Dispatches make it appear that hope is based on discussions here about the American policy with regard to Russia, all about equally "high authorities," and they do not always appear to be in perfect harmony.

No Political Discussion. The State Department policy, so far as it can be learned, is to take no part in any political discussion with respect to Russia. Clause I, as summarized in the dispatches, provides for a political discussion. The dispatches indicate a hopefulness among those who are talking with Mr. Child that the United States will now be moved to accept the invitation.

A commission such as Mr. Hughes has in mind as one in which this country would participate would no more than investigate the economic conditions of Russia, its agricultural, manufacturing, transportation and other similar conditions, its need of credit perhaps, and the obstacles to the granting of credits which the laws and practices of the Soviet Government would affect. Such a commission would investigate and report.

It would be a means of getting the great Powers of the world to present a united front rather than for carrying on negotiations with Russia.

Such a commission by its report might be sufficient to start business one color is

U. S. Stand Indefinite. It is not specifically said in the summary from Genoa whether or not the renewed examination would be based upon the Russian memorandum of May 11, which was in the original invitation to this country and to which Mr. Hughes objected in his reply.

By the position of the State Department here it is understood that any continuation of discussion of this subject would only serve false hopes in the minds of the Soviet Government.

The real attitude of the Government is difficult to state because one color is

LIQUOR WORTH $1,000,000 SEIZED IN PAST WEEK

WASHINGTON, May 19.—More than $1,000,000 worth of liquor was seized during the past week by the recently organized general agents prohibition forces operating in various districts throughout the country. Commissioner Haynes announced today. Seizures were made, he said, in Ohio, New York, Maryland, Georgia, Florida, Illinois, Minnesota and Kentucky.

CALIFORNIA VINEYARDS WORTH $2,000,000 SEIZED

SAN FRANCISCO, May 19.—Federal officers today started seizure of vineyard properties valued at $2,000,000, owned by the Theodore Gier Vineyard Company, of Oakland. Orders for the seizure came from Washington after a report by wire of the seizure of a truckload of wine and raids on warehouses had shown shortage of 46,000 gallons of wine from original shipments.

75,000 BOYS JOIN HELD UP, HE LOSES ATHLETIC CARNIVAL CASH AND CLOTHES

Free Amusements Throughout City Are Provided for Youngsters

More than 75,000 boys are exerting themselves in athletic pursuits today, just by way of venting their rage for the real athletic carnival, which will form part of the winding up of Boy Week.

Tonight, "Boys in the Home Night," will find these same boys, after their energetic day, the objects of unusually solicitous attention by their parents, whereby the head of the house will try to make the home atmosphere attractive to the boy, or at least so that he will be engaged with some wholesome diversion out of the house.

Which means that after running, jumping, swimming and playing on every available spot of ground in the city, the boys of Philadelphia will go home to a supper specially prepared for them, both as regards composition and size, to be followed by an evening of pure pleasure.

Every school and every playground in Philadelphia will participate from 3:30 to 4:30 P. M. today, which includes relay races, pass ball, tug-of-war, collect ball, dodge ball and the like, together with all the more ordinary games known to boys.

Team Scores to Be Kept. The boys will be divided into Blue and Gold teams, and each school and playground will send in the total points scored by its Blue and its Gold teams to a common center. Details and special schools will call Spruce 8053 and report their scores, and junior and senior high schools will call Spruce 8057.

The amusements at Willow Grove. Continued on Page Two, Column Three

COURT FREES SEMENOV

Appellate Division Reverses Decision in Cossack Leader's Case

New York, May 19.—General Gregorie Semenov, former attornay of the Cossacks, was ordered released from arrest today by the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court, which reversed the decision of Supreme Court Justice DeLoach.

Semenov was arrested on a civil war indictment by the Yourovetta Home and Foreign Trade Company, a bankrupt New York concern, which charges him with seizing supplies owned by the company in Siberia. The higher court directed that $10 costs be awarded. He has been out on $25,000 bail.

PERHAPS THE VERY ARTICLE YOU ARE LOOKING FOR IS IN THE FOR SALE COLUMN ON PAGE 29.—Adv.

GENOA PASSES TORCH TO HAGUE

Optimism Voiced as Conference Ends—Non-Aggression Pact Finally Adopted

LLOYD GEORGE WARNS RUSSIA TO PAY DEBTS

Calls Results of Parley "Fine Crops"—Soviet Objects to Labor Report

By the Associated Press.

Genoa, May 19.—The Economic Conference, one of the greatest political gatherings in Europe's history, which brought here the representatives of thirty-four nations, adjourned this afternoon after six weeks of momentous deliberations. Its labors will be begun anew at The Hague on June 15.

The conference adopted the report of the economic commission, which contains constructive recommendations for the economic reorganization of Europe; adopted the arrangements for the conference at The Hague, and proclaimed the non-aggression pact, which, though provisional in its nature, it is hoped to follow with a permanent European peace pact.

The keynote of all the remarks at the final session was one of friendship and earnest desire to help Russia, but Mr. Lloyd George pointed out to the Russian Soviet representatives the unfortunate effect their famous memorandum had had on the world and warned them that if they wished for success at The Hague they had better abandon their eloquent presentation of the doctrine of repudiation of debts.

"Such a course is unwise when one wants to build a new world," the British Prime Minister remarked.

More Protests by Russia. M. Chicherin protested against the exclusion of the Russians from the Labor Committee. He said the real cause of the failure to obtain a settlement of the Russian question was that the footing of equality between Russia and the other Powers had not been maintained.

He also protested against the economic report, saying the attitude toward labor was unwarranted.

Mr. Lloyd George in his valedictory speech said the conference had gathered "fine crops," and called it "the most remarkable conference in the history of modern times."

He declared the "Russian tornado" had not upset the basic laws of the world's business, and that while Europe was anxious to help Russia, it must accept Europe's centuries-old code of honor—the payment of debts.

Chicherin Answers Lloyd George. M. Chicherin, responding to Mr. Lloyd George's remarks, regarding the Russian memorandum, said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

He said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

He said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

He said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

He said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.

He said the Russian people were anxious to modify their economic views, and that the conference should be held in London.